Mr. Red Cavaney
Deputy Assistant to the President
The White House
Washington, D.C. 20500

Dear Red:

It was good to see you, even if briefly, at the White House briefing yesterday.

Meetings like these, directed at the senior government affairs executives of major companies, make a lot of good sense. These are the people who are directly responsible for all the legislative affairs and lobbying activities for their companies and who can deliver on what you want. The Carter people never figured this out -- obviously. I'm delighted to see this development and urge you to continue it on a periodic basis.

For our part, be assured that Scott Paper Company will take full advantage of every direct constituent relationship we have in 37 states as well as indirect relationships in all 50 states to aggressively support the President's complete economic program and make that unqualified support known in Congress.

Best regards,

*Red - I'll look forward to getting together for lunch soon. Thanks very much for including
me in this briefing.
